MILAM COUNTY TRADE IS EXPANDING

BUSINESS IN MILAM SHOWS RAPID GROWTH

Milam County shared in large measure the prosperity that came to the nation during the 10 year period from 1939-1948 inclusive and proof of this prosperity is given in a bulletin released May 22.

Retail, wholesale, and service establishments located in Milam County showed a substantial expansion in dollars volume of trade from 1939 to 1948 according to preliminary figures from the 1948 Census of Business released today by the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Retail sales in the county during 1948 aggregated $15.8 million, an increase of 251 per cent over the $4.5 million in 1939, when the preceding Census of Business was taken. Wholesale sales in the county reached a total of $5.7 million in 1948 as compared with $2.5 million in 1939. The service trades included in the Census of Business recorded receipts totaling $710,000 in 1948 compared with $201,000 in 1939.

Employment in the county also rose over the 9-year period between 1939 and 1948 for the above trades. Establishments in these trades reported a combined total of 942 paid employees for workweek ended nearest November 15, 1948. This compared with a total of 735 employees reported for the week of November 15, 1939.

These preliminary figures have been derived from a Census report on Milam County, Texas, which also includes data for the city of Cameron. Final figures, superseding the preliminary data for Milam County, will be included in a Bulletin for the State of Texas to be issued in several months. Similar data will be made available this year in preliminary and final form for each of the counties and States.

Good music will be furnished throughout the day and from 5 to 8 p. m. supper will be served with plenty of refreshments and other attractions that night.

The people of the church extend a hearty welcome to all to be present at this big event.

1950 TOMATO MARKET OPENED HERE FRIDAY

The 1950 Tomato Market opened Friday, June 2, J. L. Foster, owner of the Foster Produce Company, said early this morning.

Mr. Foster stated that the Tomato crop this year will equal only about 20 per cent compared to last year's yield. Indications were that this year's crop will be the shortest that Milam County has produced in several years. If the rain will stop, the quality of the tomatoes should be pretty good, although it has damaged their quality to some extent already.

Mr. Foster said that the tomato market should be in full swing by Monday, and those tomatoes brought in Friday were of fine quality. Prices quoted on these tomatoes were 12c per pound for pinks and 8c for No. 1 greens.

Demand is good this year and if good weather prevails, tomatoes should continue to bring a good price.

For many years the tomato crop has been top pay-off crop in Milam County and the magic soil belt of our county has produced some of the best tomatoes in the entire nation.

A Proclamation

Recognizing that health is the most priceless possession of either the individual or the populace, and desiring to encourage and supplement the present effort of many public spirited citizens of our town, who, with interest centered in the general welfare and in the banishment of disease or threat thereof, are waging a campaign to place our home surroundings in order, and have set date for cooperative work to clean up and remove all probable sources of infection and contagion from our midst.

We do hereby proclaim June 12th through June 17th as Clean Up Week for and in the City of Cameron, and do hereby urge that all ordinary pursuits of our citizenship be suspended and all business houses closed Thursday, June 15th, during the hours of 1 o'clock through 6 o'clock p. m., and that every person in our City cooperate with trash collection and spraying details in cleaning our City. A great concerted effort is being sought for this date by interested leaders. Appeals will be made and suggestions and instructions from those informed in sanitary observances communicated to all by circular and press and otherwise; and we earnestly request that each person in Cameron take an active and serious part in this campaign.

This the 7th day of June, A. D. 1950.

CAMERON LITTLE THEATRE TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

Plans are being made this week for the organizing of a Cameron Little Theatre in hopes that a greater cultural enjoyment may come to the community. At the present time, only tentative plans have been set down but it is hoped that within the next few days definite arrangements can be made for the organization of a local theatrical group.

Robert Johnson, a sophomore student at Austin College, Sherman, Texas, who has done work at Austin College on the stage and in Radio for the past two years, is beginning an intensive program of organization for the Little Theatre program in Cameron. Mr. Johnson hopes to present his plans to several service organizations in the city and arouse a genuine interest in this work.

Other communities the size of Cameron have had Little Theatre groups for many years and it is possible for Cameron to have a Theatre that it can be proud of. A well-organized theatre made up of local talent can add much to the cultural life of any community and with the support of the entire community it cannot fail.

Mr. Johnson requests that all persons interested in forming a Little theatre for Cameron see or call him at 128 as soon as possible so that he may start definite organization and begin rehearsals for the first performance as soon as possible.

CONGRESSMAN POAGE PREDICTS ACREAGE CUT

The 1951 cotton allotment may be cut 20 per cent on a national scale.

If a bumper corn crop is harvested this year, there may be controls on corn plantings and other feed crops for 1951.

The oat support price will be around 70 cents a bushel this year.

These are a few of the statements Congressman Bob Poage told these newspapers when he was here signing a soil conservation agreement with the McLennan County Soil Conservation District last week.

Poage said there would be a cotton (turn to page twelve)

H. M. ROARK MAKES BID FOR LEGISLATURE

H. M. Roark of Rockdale, a long time resident of Milam County, has announced his candidacy for representative of the 64th district which is composed of Milam County, and has launched a vigorous and energetic campaign.

Mr. Roark is well and favorably known throughout the entire county, having settled near Rockdale in 1901 where he farmed for two years before entering the teaching profession in which he remained for 37½ years.

Those who are familiar with Mr. Roark's record have testified that he is honest, sincere, capable, and dependable, and that he is young enough to be active, yet old enough to be mature and that his long and valuable experience and his understanding of the people and their problems will better enable him to serve the people of this county efficiently as their representative.

While visiting in Cameron Tuesday, Mr. Roark told the editor of The Cameron Herald that he believes there is no substitute for common honesty and hard work and that official conduct should be governed by principle and that, if elected, he will adhere to these precepts and will try to serve Milam County with a free conscience and without favoritism and to offer safe, sane, sober, and sensible representation to the people.

He further stated that if elected, he would give his entire time to the duties of the office and would work unceasingly for old age assistance and other social security benefits. Mr. Roark also told the editor that he is attempting to personally solicit the vote of each individual voter, and that if any voter is overlooked, it is certainly not intentional, and that he would be deeply grateful for each vote received.

Samuel S. White Finishes First Phase Of Training Program

Sidney L. Loveless, District Manager, Central Texas Agency for the American General Life Insurance Company, Houston, Texas, announced on June 1, 1950 that Samuel S. White, Aggie graduate of the Class of 1943 had completed the first phase of his career training program as a life underwriter.

This phase of his training consists of eight weeks of study and practical work in the field. Loveless has spent most of his time in Cameron and Milam County during this two month period working with Mr. White in the beginning of his life insurance career.

He has been very successful in completing this first two months and attended the school for new men at the Home Office in Houston from June 4th to June 10th.

As soon as this school is completed Mr. White will commence the forty week Diamond Life Bulletin Field Course.

Mr. White is a member of the Central Texas Agency with headquarters in College Station. That Agency has in excess of $14,000,000 of business in force.

Cameron Jaycees To Aid Clean-Up Drive

The Cameron Junior Chamber of Commerce has voted to back the annual clean-up campaign. The committee appointed is Rev. James McKeown, chairman, Dr. Gus Evans and Dr. George Bowman.

The club will also send an entry to the district Jaycees beauty contest in Bryan. Dr. Bowman is chairman of the committee to select an entry. Robert Johnson discussed the Little Theatre, which he will direct and the club voted to sponsor it.

Dick Young Will Not Be Candidate For Superintendent

I will not be a candidate for the nomination for Superintendent of public schools in Milam County at the coming primary election.

In making this decision I am yielding to a number of circumstances that appear to make it advisable that I decline to make the race at this time, although I had received so much encouragement throughout the county it was difficult to reach this decision.

The time is limited and to have begun a campaign earlier would have been more satisfactory and this factor alone is one of the principal reasons why I feel I should not be a candidate this year. I am deeply grateful to the people everywhere and especially those who pledged their support and will continue to be mindful of this encouragement.

MILK PRODUCERS HOLD MEETING WEDNESDAY

Dairy Meeting of Milam County milk producers will be held at the Simon-George Hall tonight at 8 p. m. Under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, the dairy industry has been encouraged and many farmers are now engaged in this profitable business.

E. R. Eudaly, dairy specialist, representing Universal Mills will be the principal speaker at this meeting.

Walter Lester, member of the dairy committee for the local Chamber, announced that W. C. Homeyer, feed specialist, from Arrow Mills will be here to talk about proper feeds for milk production. He stated also that Joe Vanek, service agent for this district, will be on hand to assist producers in any dairy needs or problems that might arise during the meeting.

Leo Fuchs will show a film for Purina feeds on the care and management of the dry cow.

A series of door prizes have been arranged and all milk producers are urged to attend.

The dairy industry is becoming a prime factor in farm income in Milam County.

CITY MAIL SERVICE WILL BE CHANGED HERE SOON

John R. Hays, local postmaster, said this morning that the city route mail service will be curtailed, on account of the cut in allowance the Federal Government issues here for expenditures for mail service.

The present four city routes will be cut back to the original three routes. This change will be in effect within the next 10 days, Mr. Hays said.

Mail delivery in the residential section will be only once a day instead of twice a day. In making this change some who have been getting their mail in the morning, will not get delivery until in the afternoon.

This change will not affect the rural routes. People who have been getting their mail on the city routes which extend on the Waco and Maysfield highways may change back to the rural routes and receive earlier mail delivery.

The postoffice here will be closed a half-a-day each week on some set day which will be decided upon sometime in the near future.

The U. S. Postal Department allowance has been cut $69,000,000. This cut has affected the local post-office to the extent that this change has become necessary.

Mr. Hays asks the people to take this change into consideration and changes in delivery service will be adjusted as soon as possible.

PARKING METERS TO BE ON TRIAL BASIS

W. H. Stafford, City Secretary, announced Wednesday morning that a contract has been let to install parking meters in Cameron.

Nathan Nevelow, representative of the Twin Meter Sales Co. of Texas, discussed with city officials Tuesday the advantages of parking meters and also revenue possibilities.

The Twin Meter, composed of two deposit units operated on the same mechanism and post, will eliminate half the number of meters required to install, maintain, and police as would the single meters.

Mr. Nevelow stated that the meters would be installed on a nine-month trial basis and after such time if the meters prove unsatisfactory and at the same time unprofitable to the city, they will be removed at the city's request.

He emphasized the unique and constructive mechanism of the Twin Parking meters and said that they would last for a long period of time, possibly 15 years.

The Twin Meter will have one clock to wind, one coin box, one housing unit, and on each side a coin meter to control the two adjoining cars. City after city throughout Texas have adopted this plan for modern parking control, he said.

At present there will be 125 meters installed and the project will get under way within the next 30 days.

BUILDING PERMITS LOW FOR MONTH OF MAY

Building permits in the City of Cameron for May totaled $9,513.00 according to W. H. Stafford, City Secretary.

At the time the above figures were compiled Mr. Stafford disclosed that the total for the first five months of the year is $102,507.00. The amount for the Month of May indicates that building progress is a little slow compared to the past four months. The major part of the amount this month went for new homes, however, several remodeling projects are still uncompleted.

In comparison by the months, May permits are the lowest for any month for 1950. Here are the permits for the previous four months: January, $13,070.00; February, $15,750.00; March, $19,735.00; and April $22,219.00.

Building here has been of a substantial nature for several years and in the last five or six years permits for the City have totaled around a million and half dollars.

TEXAS FARMERS WRITE NEW ROAD DEMANDS

Want better rural roads?

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation is already at work going into all details of writing a rural roads bill for presentation to the next session of the Texas Legislature in January.

Two meetings have been held by the farm organization officials, and more will be held as the need arises. All interested parties, including County Commissioners, county judges, and rural mail carriers, are being consulted in an effort to clear up all details.

"More meetings will be held as the need arises, and before we put the final bill into form, a large meeting will be held to clear up any final details overlooked," said J. Walter Hamond, Texas Farm Bureau president.

Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park is road committee chairman. Barbour held the same position in the bureau's unsuccessful fight at the last session of the Texas Legislature.

Opponents and proponents remembered that the road bill almost—but not quite—passed.

So at the next session, Farm Bureau leaders and others interested in better roads plan to have their forces a little better organized so as to secure a victory.

The recently passed Gilmer-Aiken bill concerning school reorganization, may be a definite help to the rural road backers.

"The bill makes the need greater for improving roads as schools are being consolidated.

"Actually, they got the cart before the horse; the needed good roads to get the school children to school," Hammond said.

To make the Gilmer-Aiken bill fully effective, better rural roads are needed, he added.

For school buses can't get the children to school on bad and muddy roads.

There's no law against a school bus going on bad roads, but it's the law of nature that they can't when the roads get muddy," Hammond said.

Nothing definite has as yet been formulated for the forthcoming road bill.

Meetings will continue. However, Hammond said a tax on natural gas will be called for as a means of raising revenue for the road program. Last year, a 1 cent tax was proposed; Hammond added it may even be higher this time.

So, it appears the slogan of the bureau last year—get the farmer out of the mud and onto the highway—is already taking definite shape this year for action next year.

Mary-Hardin Baylor Shares In Estate

LITTLE ROCK, May 29—The Arkansas Supreme Court approved Monday the method used by a Texarkana woman in disposing of the bulk of her $817,000 estate to church and charitable institutions.

Involved was about $800,000 in stocks held by the Texarkana (Texas) National Bank under the will and trust agreement of the late Mrs. Ida M. Bottoms, widow of a wealthy lumberman.

Testimony presented to the court showed that prior to her death Mrs. Bottoms set up a trust agreement whereby 10 Baptist church and charitable institutions would receive income from the mining and lumber stocks.

The heirs contested the trust agreement, and the Miller County Chancery Court ruled in their favor. That ruling was reversed Monday by supreme court.

These institutions are sharing in the estate:

Ouachita Baptist College of Arkadelphia, Ark.; Central Baptist College of North Little Rock; Baylor College of Belton, Texas; Buckner's Orphans Home, Bottom's Orphan Home, Baptist Theological Seminary, Southern Baptist Home Mission Board Baptist Seminary, Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board and the Baptist Bible Institute.

Rockdale Field Will Get New Steel Bleachers

Rockdale football fans will have new steel bleachers to sit on this fall in place of the old wooden bleachers at the Rockdale field, the school board announced this week.

Present plans call for the erection of 10 rows 120 feet long, extending from 30-yard line to 30-yard line, to give an estimated seating capacity of about 800. Board members also pointed out that plans may be altered and the capacity increased if finances can be arranged.

The old wooden bleachers were declared unsafe when two people fell through the stands when the foot-rest gave way. The new bleachers will be constructed so that additional seating can be added at any time.

Texas' 4 Confederate Vets Honored

AUSTIN, Texas, June 4—They're all colonels now—the last four Texans who wore the Gary eighty-five years ago in the Civil War.

Gov. Allan Shivers made them honorary colonels on his staff Saturday in tribute to them on the birthday of Jefferson Davis, their commander-in-chief under the Stars and Bars.

Four living Texas survivors of the Confederate Army are Thomas E. Riddle, who stays at the Confederate Home here; J. H. Whitsett of Bonham, Walter W. Williams of Franklin and Jeremiah P. O'Brien of Buna.

The people of the United States long since have been reunited, said the Governor, but "it is natural and fitting that the people of the South continue to pay homage to their forbearers who fought and died for principles they believed to be right."

He added: "Our admiration and appreciation of the gallant spirit of the Confederacy have not diminished with the years."

Departing from his rule against giving honorary colonelcies, the Governor ordered commissions issued the veterans as a tribute.

SCHOLASTIC POPULATION MILAM COUNTY SCHOOLS

A report of the scholastic census roll of Milam County has been completed and filed with the State Educational Agency at Austin.

The total scholastic census for 1950 shows a loss of 288 pupils from last year's report. This follows the trend that has been repeating for the last sixteen years. The scholastic census shows that the present roll has decreased to almost one-half the amount of pupils that was enrolled 15 years ago. In 1934-35 the total scholastic population was 10,644 with the present roll consisting of only 5,355 pupils. This 50 per cent decrease has caused a number of rural schools to be closed.

The greatest decrease has been taking place in the common school districts. This year's report shows a loss of 187 scholastics in the common school districts. The only appreciable change in the independent districts has been at Milano which shows a loss of 101 during the year.

The loss in scholastic population during the past year is attributed to smaller families and the exodus of families with children to the industrial centers.

The following information has been compiled by Chas. M. Hicks, County Superintendent and submitted for publication.

CENSUS COUNT HERE TO BE DISAPPOINTING

What will the census count show in Cameron for 1950?

That was the traditional 864 question in the old village today as many began to wonder whether the count may soon be completed and what happened to the clean up.

Will Cameron show an increase or will the city fall below the 5,043 count in 1940? All agree that if a full count can be had the city would show an increase but like most Texas cities the civic Big Wigs will have to drink an extra cup of coffee to be able to assimilate the shock.

During the war days Cameron's limited habitable places were over-stuffed and at one time the population was considerably in excess of 6,000. Since that time there has been a decline due to lack of employment opportunities although the city has experienced a normal growth.

The Chamber of Commerce reported Tuesday that enumeration appeared to be moving at a slow pace, somewhat like "Step 'n Fetchit" in a 100 yard dash.

The Chamber was doing everything it could to arouse interest among those who have not yet been enumerated. How many there may be is the big question. In the meantime the wheels of progress creaking ahead with civic leaders straining at the load.

The city has been placed under a sub-enumerator at Marlin. Everything possible will be done to get a full count before the time runs out.

New Farms Are Due Wheat Allotments

Wheat acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1951 wheat crop, according to word received by Paul C. Graves, Milam County PMA Chairman from the Department of Agriculture at Washington D. C. The legislation under which wheat acreage allotments are established requires that they be proclaimed each year by the Secretary of Agriculture unless a national emergency exists.

The Chairman explains that each year the national allotment is based on the estimated needs for the coming year after making allowance for the supply of wheat on hand on July 1 of that year.

Cameron had received more than 2 inches of rain to Tuesday morning according to L. W. Smith, of the Community Public Service Company, local observer.

Mr. Smith reported that the city received a half inch on Friday and on Monday, the total fall was 1.79. In other sections of the county, especially in the area near Burlington and Ben Arnold and West in the black land farm country, considerable damage may have resulted from the heavy down pour which was accompanied by brisk winds. Elm Creek had overflowed its banks by early noon on Monday.

Milam County Man Graduates With Honors From Medical School

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wise of Maysfield attended the graduation of their son, Dr. Robert I. Wise on Friday night at 8:15 p. m. at the Marine Room of the University of Texas medical school at Galveston. Dr. Wise received the valedictory honors of his class at the graduation exercises.

Dr. Wise and his wife, the former Miss Catherine Dostershill of Dallas, were well known in civic and social circles during the three years that he was assistant professor of bacteriology at the medical school.

There was time for his wife to work very hard with the Galveston County Society for Crippled Children, the Junior League and Junior Wednesday clubs. Dr. Wise worked too—he published many scientific papers.

He was active and interested in three honor societies, Phi Sigma, honorary biology group; Sigma Xi, honorary scientific group and Alpha Omega Alpha, honorary medical society. There was also his medical fraternity activities in Nu Sigma Nu.

But more and more he felt the desire to closer correlate biology with clinical medicine.

Then four years ago, Mrs. Wise eased out of her club work and Dr. Wise got her full support in seeing that "there is quite for—Daddy to study." This was necessitated by the activities of his three children, Joyce, 6, Karl, 21 months, and Robert Jr., 8.

But he did not have too much time for real long study sessions. During his medical student days, he was in charge of the bacteriology and urology laboratories at the hospital and was in charge of teaching bacteriology. He taught technology students in the summer and supervised their training in the winter.

In fact in the midst of his preparation for graduation, he had to take time out to teach a class.

Yet as a student as well as teacher, he will lead his class of 94 in grades.

"Years ago when I went to the University of Texas and later the University of Illinois I really wanted to be a medical doctor but somehow did not go to medical school," Dr. Wise commented.

"The more I worked in biology the more I recognized the strong relationship to bacteriology and internal medicine."

The Wise family has sold their home and will be leaving the end of June for New Orleans where Dr. Wise will intern for a year at the United States Marine Hospital there.

After that, he doesn't know, but he conquered the highest hurdle Friday night at the graduation exercises.

Dr. William M. Gambrell of Austin, president of the Texas State Medical Association, delivered the principal address to the students.

Dr. C. O. Terrell of Fort Worth, leading Texas pediatrician and member of the board of regents of the University of Texas, and James Rockwall of Houston, another regent, shared honors on the rostrum. Also on the rostrum were officials of the Sealy & Smith Foundation and staff members of the medical school.

The medical graduates were presented by Dr. D. Bailey Calvin, dean of students and curricular affairs.

Dr. Wise gave the salutatory for the medical branch.

Dr. Wise got his early education in the Ben Arnold public school, graduating from Yoe High School as an honor student.

Popular Food Freezer

One of the most popular home freezing units available today is the Firestone 19-foot upright freezer which has met with tremendous acceptance because of its greater capacity in a cabinet which requires a minimum of floor space. With the modern trend in home design toward the ranch style, basementless dwelling, there is considerable less floor space available for appliances. Firestone was among the first to meet this problem with its streamlined upright freezer. Extra capacity was made possible by use of the new and efficient Monsanto insulation, "Santocel," which gives greater insulation protection and about twice as much storage space as would be available with conventional type insulation. The new 19-foot Firestone upright food freezer is on display at the nearest Firestone.

WIDOW OF VETERANS ELIGIBLE FOR GI LOANS

Unmarried widows of veterans who died as a result of service in World War II are made eligible for GI home, farm and business loans under the terms of instruction issued by Veterans Administration to its field offices.

Such unmarried widows became eligible for VA-guaranteed loans as the result of one of several amendments to the GI loan provisions contained in the recently enacted Housing Act of 1950.

Eligibility requirements for such widows to receive GI loan guarantees in general parallel those governing death compensation payable to widows of World War II veterans.

The veteran must have served in the armed forces at some period between September 16, 1940 and July 25, 1947, and his death must have been a result of service while on duty or from service-connected causes following the veteran's death.

Widows who are eligible for GI loan benefits by virtue of their own service in the armed forces receive no additional benefits as widows.

GI loans for home, farm or business purposes are made by private lending institutions, with VA guaranteeing the lender against loss on a portion of the loan.

One of the recent amendments authorizes VA to make direct loans to eligibles for home purchases after July 19, 1950, in localities where mortgage financing at 4 percent interest is not available.

Dust Mixture For Controlling Aphids

J. D. Moore, County Agent, submitted information which should prove very valuable to the Central Texas farmer. This information concerns the use of 3% Nicotine Dust Mixture for the control of aphids, insects which multiply rapidly and which are very common in this section of Texas.

The dust is made by mixing two tablespoonfuls of 40% nicotine sulphate, such as Blackleaf 70, in one pound or one quart of hydrated lime.

Procedures for mixing the dust are as follows: fill a gallon can, which has a tight-fitting lid, not more than half full of hydrated lime, add six or eight stones about the size of a walnut, and pour the required amount of nicotine sulphate over the lime. Then, put the lid on tightly and shake or rotate the can for about five minutes, restraining from inhaling the fumes when lid is removed. Lime is used as a diluent since it causes nicotine sulphate to give off free nicotine fumes. This dust should not be carried over for any length of time, but should be used immediately after mixing, spreading it at a rate of one pound per 150 to 200 feet of row.

For killing aphids which damage cabbage and peas, an increase in the concentration of the spray to about 4% is required. This increase may be provided by using three tablespoonfuls of nicotine sulphate to the gallon of water.

A spray solution may be obtained by using one oz. or approximately two tablespoonfuls of 40% nicotine sulphate and one oz. soap in one gallon of water. Best results are obtained if the spray solution is applied at the rate of one gallon per 100 to 125 feet row.

To achieve the most effective results, the spray or dust should be applied directly on the aphids, since when the leaves are curled, the insecticide must penetrate the curl or control will be unsatisfactory. Also, for most desirable results, dust should be applied when temperatures are above 75 degrees Fahrenheit.

CENSUS REPORT NEAR COMPLETION HERE

Census taking in Cameron is progressing and indications are that the roundup would be completed within a few days.

L. G. Smith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said that the city has been thoroughly canvassed with only a few residents remaining to be enumerated. He stated, however, that anyone who was missed by the census takers, to call the local Chamber, phone No. 101 at once, so no one will be left out in the enumeration. Notice may come soon, from the head office in Waco that the enumeration has closed and those who have not been enumerated are urged to do so immediately.

Miss Rodenbeck Weds N. L. Thaler May 28

The Saint John's Lutheran Church in Detmold was the setting Sunday of a twilight marriage ceremony for Miss Margaret Rodenbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rodenbeck, and Norman L. Thaler, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Thaler.

The altar of the church was banked with baskets of calla lilies flanked by arrangements of May flowers and candelabra, and the aisle was marked with streamers of satin centered with May flowers.

AUCTION SALE BRINGS FARMER RECORD PRICE

HOUSTON, June 1—Pablo Rivera got a record $2,585 today for his over-sized bale of cotton, the nation's first for the 1950 crop.

The traditional first bale auction on the Houston Cotton Exchange floor saw the 600 pounds of Rio Grande Valley middling grade cotton sold at $2.10 to the George H. McFadden and Brothers firm of Houston.

Little Pablo, a 130-pounder from La Grulla, Starr County, also carried off a $1,325 bonus purse given by members of the exchange.

The same bale would have sold for only $207 on today's regular market.

R. C. Beach Jr., a McFadden partner, said directors of the New York Cotton Exchange have agreed to re-auction the bale for benefit of the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

The previous record first-bale price was $2,528.20 taken last year by Joe Acosta of Mission. Acosta got $2.35 a pound, still a record. His bonus also was $1,325.

Pablo's bale was 88 pounds heavier than that of Acosta. The added weight accounted for the new record despite today's sale being 25 cents a pound less than a year ago.

J. M. Locke, exchange president, who handled the auction, said only two other season-opening bales have been ginned earlier in the United States.

He said the 1921 first bale was ginned May 26 and the 1927 bale on May 30. Pablo's bale was ginned yesterday at McAllen.

In encouraging the cotton men to submit strong and rapid bids, Locke said the 1950 bale was "exceptionally fine, good, strong staple." It was classified middling grade, 1 1-32 staple.

"It has been ginned remarkably smooth," he said. "In years past we have sometimes received first bales perhaps picked a bit early and then rushed through a gin in order to get the bale to Houston first."

Pablo also set another record. He is the only cotton farmer ever to bring two first bales to Houston.

In 1948 he received $2,456.20 for a 564-pound bale brought here on June 14. Anderson, Clayton and Co. paid him $2.05 a pound and the exchange purse totaled $1,300.

The 48-year-old Pablo, father of three children, planted his cotton Feb. 4 on his 40-acre farm on the Rio Grande. Friends and relatives helped him pick the bale, finishing at 8 a. m. yesterday. Two hours and 45 minutes later he was enroute to Houston in a pick-up truck.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Hairston and Patricia Ann of Luling were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bartow Jackson the past week end.

J. R. Allen of Lufkin spent several days the past week visiting in the home of his son, W. C. Allen and family.

Mrs. Wendell Perkins, Alma Jean, Don Wendell and George Daniel of San Angelo visited Mrs. Dan Lunsford and girls here this week. They also visited other relatives in Rosebud.

MOTHER OF CAMERON PUBLISHER IS DEAD

Mrs. W. A. White, 75, mother of J. B. White, Cameron publisher, died shortly before 9:00 p. m. Sunday, June 4, at a hospital in Nixon.

Mrs. White had been critically ill for more than two months from a heart ailment. She went to the hospital in March for treatment following a flu and pneumonia attack and her condition since that time had not been satisfactory.

Mrs. White was the widow of the late W. A. White, widely known South Texas pioneer and Old Trail Driver, who died February 28, 1949. She was the daughter of the late A. B. Hyatt and Mary Jane Taylor and was born in Karnes County on March 28, 1875.

Mrs. White was a Charter member of First Baptist church in Nixon and her husband was the first church clerk when six members organized the church in 1906, Nixon then being a new town springing up on the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad built through the range country.

Mrs. White is survived by three children as follows: William H. White of San Antonio, J. B. White of Cameron and Mrs. R. A. Bomar of Three Rivers, Texas.

Surviving also are the following grandchildren: Thos. J. White of Los Alamos, New Mexico, Mrs. Herbert H. Haase of West New York, N. J., Joseph William White of Houston and Royce A. Bomar, Jr., of Kingsville, Texas. Six great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral arrangements were pending and would be announced Monday or Tuesday. Her eldest son, William H. White was on his way to Chicago and could not be contacted Monday.

allotment bill introduced soon in Congress which may call for a cut of around 20 per cent on a national scale from the 1950 acreage of 21,000,000 acres.

That 20 per cent cut does not necessarily mean a 20 per cent cut for every individual.

The whole thing, of course, depends on how this year's cotton crop comes off.

There may be no wheat allotments due to the present short crop estimates.

The new cotton allotment bill for 1951 will closely follow lines of the 1950 bill, Poage added.

Poage also reported that the 1,200,000-acre estimate it would take to satisfy farmer demands for more cotton under the amended cotton bill, did not materialize.

Something over 600,000 acres were added to the national cotton allotment as a result of appeal board hearings throughout the nation. And Texas received over half this acreage.

Asked if the review board would continue under the 1951 allotment program, Poage answered yes, with this exception: The county committee would hear appeal cases.

Poage added that although there is opposition to the plan, the two-price system for cotton has some merit. That plan provides one price for a certain number of bales, and a second price for excess bales.

The oat support price will be announced as soon as possible. Hold up is the Senate approving $2,000,000,000 for price support programs. The House has already approved the measure.

Poage said he thought the price support for oats would be somewhere around 70 cents a bushel, which would be 6 cents a bushel less than the 1949 support price of 76 cents.

Commenting on other allotment programs, Poage said that if a bumper corn crop is harvested this year, there may very well be allotments on corn and other feed crops.

Poage said he sees no major changes in the present farm program.

The Brannan Plan, he said, does not have a chance of passing this session of Congress.

It may become a political campaign issue, but he said it would probably die out.

Poage dislikes the Brannan Plan because of the dole feature.

Under the plan, farmers will be guaranteed a price for their crops; if the open market price falls below this set price, the treasury will pay the difference direct to the farmer.

The present farm support price program is now operating at a total net loss of just under a half-billion dollars. That covers the 14-year period it has been in effect.

Potatoes, Poage added, are the main reason for the deficit amounting to half of the total.

As for the Texas Farm Bureau Federations plan of retiring a certain percentage of acres on every farm, Poage said that farmers would be faced with careful planting plans.

The price of one crop may look good one year, and farmers may plant all their land to that crop, thus making for a huge surplus.

Census Trend Shown At 2 Counties Lose

New Texas census figures released Tuesday strengthened the idea that nothing succeeds like success—that populous counties grow more populous and sparsely populous counties lose people.

The new figures dealt with Foard County in Northwest Texas and Freestone County in East Central Texas. Not populous in 1940, they lost even more people in the intervening 10 years.

Foard County showed a decline in population from 5,237 in 1940 to 4,212 in 1950. Crowell, county seat, picked up slightly from 1,817 in 1940 to 1,922 in 1950.

Freestone County lost 26 per cent in population from 1940 to 1950, preliminary figures showed.

The 1950 population is 15,644, compared with 21,138 a decade ago, a loss of 5,494.

Fairfield, the county seat, showed a 692 gain over the 1940 figure with 1,739, replacing Wortham as the county's second largest city. The Fairfield 1940 population was 1,047.

Teague remains the largest community in the county with 2,906, a loss of 249 from the 3,157 of 1940. Wortham has 1,172, a loss of 95 from the 1940 figure of 1,267.

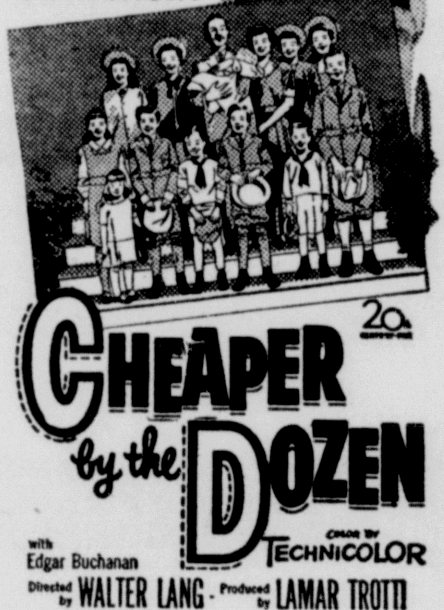

Breckenridge, Stephens County seat, jumped from 5,825 to 6,605. Lueders, unincorporated in 1940, now has 712 residents.

Jones County's rural population dropped from 13,824 to 9,287. Stephens' rural dwellers went down from 7,530 to 3,969.

Mrs. Steve Macal and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Nesuda and daughter of Ennis have gone to Colorado, Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City, and other points of interest.
